Quassel IRC - Bug #1275

Can't see the content of new queries

Version:	0.10.0	OS:	Windows

Description

It is not possible for me to open up new queries.
To be precise, I can open a new window, but its entirely blank. http://puu.sh/85KYo.png
If I write something in it, nothing happens on my side, but I was told they received it. For me, it just stays blank.
The old queries still work though.
I have no idea at which point that started to happen though.

Actually, I just noticed, I can't see contents of new channels either. Debug gives me this whenever someone posts something in one of these blank new channels/queries.

INSERT INTO backlog (time, bufferid, type, flags, senderid, message)
VALUES (?, ?, ?, ?, (SELECT senderid FROM sender WHERE sender = ?), ?)
bound Values: :bufferid=76, :flags=0, :message='thanks', :sender='Martenus!webchat@78.156.128.35', :time=1397397934, :type=1
Error Number: 11

Fixed it by completely removing quassel and reinstalling it. The error was somewhere in the quassel-storage.sqlite (600mb), because when I tried to place the file in the new install, the error re-appeared.
