Description I'm not good at english, so maybe i had a lots of grammar mistakes on my statements. When I using quassel, I'm encountered that i can't make my nickname with korean. But, that's okay. I still using my nickname without korean. Chatting is fine, anything language is working with quassel very well. When I querying irc channel users, some users can't querying with me. At first, i don't know what happened. When i view that user's info, i saw most of his nickname is broken with few question marks. Than i realized that the broken characters is not alphabet, number or special characters. I think quassel have some trouble with asian characters.
