| Descriptionas it is now, nicknames in action messages appear within the message body<nick> this is a normal message_*- nick is doing somethingnicknames could be placed within the nickname column (with a prepended *)<nick> this is a normal message• nick is doing somethingthis would emphasize who is doing this action (which, for me at least, improves readability) |                |                        |           |

History

#1 - 10/31/2008 01:51 PM - EgS

for ctcp actions we currently display a "-*- " in the sender column (nick) and we add the nickname to the contentcolumn.
Sput: what do you think about this? I'm not really sure...
