Description

If you cancel the first-run wizard (monolithic build), an "empty" identity (no identity name, real name, nickname, ...) gets created. Maybe a "Default Identity" should be created instead.

I wasn't able to reproduce the issue. When I cancel the first run wizard that helps you creating a default identity and network it didn't create a network or identity.

Please let me know the exact steps how to reproduce the issue.

Seemed to create an empty identity (the identity selection, "Rename" and "Delete" button on the settings' "Identities" page are not deactivated...), but doesn't actually do it...
